

Do you need help to communicate with the neonatal staff team?

Open and trusting relationships between families and staff on the neonatal unit are essential, but we know that communication can sometimes be difficult.

The British Association of Perinatal Medicine (BAPM) is the UK's professional association for healthcare professionals that work in neonatal care.

We have developed information about how to improve communications with staff or raise a concern – find out more at www.bapm.org/families or scan the QR code.
