

BAIL FOR IMMIGRATION DETAINEE'S
FUNDRAISING PACK

Packed full of top tips, fundraising ideas, templates & more!

What do we do?

BID believes that asylum seekers and migrants in the UK have a right to liberty and access to justice and should not be subjected to immigration detention.

BID exists to challenge immigration detention and increase access to justice for immigration detainees facing deportation through the provision of legal advice, information and representation alongside research, policy and advocacy and strategic litigation.

Our projects:

- Right to Liberty - Provides legal advice to people held in immigration detention on how they can get released from detention. We do this through our advice line, legal representation and workshops in detention centres.
- Separated Families' Project - We provide parents separated from their children by detention with legal advice and representation to secure their release so that they can be reunited.
- Prisons' Project - Any foreign national in the UK can be detained at the end of their custodial sentence under immigration powers. People detained in prisons have no legal advice and no access to mobile phones. Our project visits prisons and provides legal advice on bail and release from detention.
- Article 8 Deportation Advice Project - Legal advice and representation for individuals in detention and in prisons who are facing deportation and who have established a private and family life in the UK.

Whether you are running, jumping, skipping, baking or walking, thank you for deciding to #ChallengeDetention. Whatever you're up to every penny you raise will go towards our vital work. Detention is a stain on our society and we are very grateful to everyone supporting us.

Make the most out of your fundraising page

Your fundraising page is your opportunity to tell people why you are fundraising for BID. Here are our top tips for your page:

1. Create your page

You can fundraise for us through our JustGiving platform, which allows you to create a page tied to our profile.

2. Set a target and start early

Data shows that the earlier people start fundraising the more they raise. Starting early and setting a target will give you plenty of time to work towards your goal.

3. Tell people why you are fundraising

Try and make the page personal. Explain why you are passionate about BID's work, why you have chosen to take on a challenge and what the experience means to you.

4. Explain how we will spend the money

BID is a small independent charity that receives no public funding. We therefore rely totally on the generosity of our donors and volunteers. Every penny that you raise will go directly into our advice work, helping us to keep the lights on, the phone lines open, and to train up our incredible team of volunteers.

5. Promote your page

Be sure to send your page to anyone you think may be interested in supporting you. Friends, family and colleagues are good place start but you could also share your page on social media to reach more people. Remember to remind people around pay day, in the the run up to the event and after the event.

6. Speak to your employer

Many workplaces have initiatives in place to support their employees raise money for good causes. Some employers even match what you raise so it is a good idea to check in with them!

7. Get physical

Fundraising online often gets great results but you may also want to consider an event or fundraiser to bring it to life, a pub quiz or raffle for example. Our fundraising A-Z is full of ideas to help you reach your target. You can use the poster template to promote your fundraiser.

8. Keep people updated

Sharing updates about your journey is a great way to encourage people to donate. Try including pictures to make your updates more eye catching.

9. Always say thank you

Make sure you thank your supporters both after they donate and after the event. You could also take this opportunity to ask if they would consider sharing your page with others who could be interested.

As a small charity, I know all funds raised go straight to the services that provide help to those deprived of their liberty for racist, administrative purposes.

- Adam Spray, Fundraiser 2019
