

ADDITIONAL RESOURCES COMPILED BY OUR VOLUNTEER TEAM: PREVIEW

Ryan C, Ali A and Shawana C. Forced or Coerced Sterilization in Canada: An Overview of Recommendations for Moving Forward. International Journal of Indigenous Health. 2021;16:275-290

Through a search and synthesis of recommendations, this article outlines seven key areas where urgent government action is required to respond to the recent cases of forced and coerced sterilisation of First Nations, Inuit, and Metis women in Canada.

A 1970 Law Led to the Mass Sterilization of Native American Women. That History Still Matters (Time, 2019)

A historical account of mass sterilisation of Native American women and the laws that enabled and, later, attempted to prevent this harmful and barbaric practice.

Eliminating forced, coercive and otherwise involuntary sterilisation (WHO, 2014)

An interagency statement aiming to contribute to the elimination of this unlawful practice still prevalent in many countries, particularly affecting people living with HIV, persons with disabilities, indigenous peoples and ethnic minorities, and transgender and intersex persons.

THANK YOU FOR YOUR INTEREST!

Did you know that there's a comprehensive resource pack for every film we show?

Our Amá resource pack includes lots more news articles, scientific publications and reports, as well as books and calls to action.

The full catalogue is available exclusively to Global Health Film members; if you're not already a member and would like to join, head to this page for all the details!