

People First newsletter

August 2023

Dear member,

Welcome to the summer issue of the People First newsletter!

Andrew Lee, People First Director

We have a lot to tell you about.

Over the last few months we've started a few new pieces of work and launched our new website.

Over the last year, the team has been working hard on expanding the Empower Enterprise. This is our accessible information and communication service. It includes easy read translation, training, and the easy read picture bank: <https://www.peoplefirstltd.com/pages/empower>

We are also supporting the campaign to stop the closure of ticket offices. Being able to travel on all public transport gives us our independence. Read more about this in one of the articles in the newsletter.

The fight to get and keep our independence should not be getting harder.

Please enjoy the newsletter!

Website launch

Earlier this month we launched our new website. This was made possible with funding from the Leaders with Lived Experience National Lottery Community Fund grant and an Esmée Fairbairn Funding Plus grant.

Check out our new website here! <https://www.peoplefirstltd.com/>

London Campaign Network

In July we started our 3-year project to strengthen campaigning between self-advocacy organisations across London.

This work also includes a management committee development programme for self-advocacy organisations. We got funding from Trust for London's Disability Justice Fund.

Find out more here: <https://www.peoplefirstltd.com/pages/london-campaign-network>

Self-Advocates' Support and Action Group

Wednesday 29th November 2023

All meetings are 12:30pm – 2:30pm

If you would like to join us please email info@peoplefirstltd.com and we will send you the Zoom link.

Co-producing Accessible Legal Information

We are working on a new project with the research team led by at the University of Birmingham.

The project brings legal professionals together with disabled people to co-produce accessible legal information and explore the relationship between legal advice and legal information.

In July we presented at the Third UK and Ireland Mental Diversity Law Conference in Nottingham.

We will work together to:

- Choose the most important legal topics for accessible information.

- Make accessible legal information for disabled people
- Make a guide for other people who want to do co-production.

We will also produce some accessible legal information templates that participants will be able to share with their firms and colleagues.

Find out more about the project here www.legalcapacity.org.uk/take-part-in-our-research/

Free Our People Now Campaign

Simone Aspis from Inclusion London is leading the Free Our People Now campaign.

The campaign aims to help autistic people and people with learning difficulties, with lived experience of the psychiatric system, to have a voice and advocate for urgent change so Autistic people and people with learning difficulties can live in their own homes rather than in hospitals.

The project will be able to offer training, information and support so we have more Disabled people helping other Disabled people to leave hospital.

We will also be working with groups and organisations run by Disabled people who are interested in getting laws, policies and rules changed so that everyone has the right to live in their own homes with good support.

In-person and online places are available.

A day long conference and free access to the Nothing About Us Without Us

landmark exhibition exploring the history of disabled people's activism and ongoing fight for rights and inclusion www.phm.org.uk

The conference will be:

- Launching the DDPO General Election manifesto
- Exploring the policy asks we want to see from a new government in its first 100 days
- Refreshing our campaign and influencing skills, tactics and planning as we enter the crucial pre-General Election lead up
- Exploring what next for our vision of a national independent living service

Human Rights Watch

Human Rights Watch is an international organisation that investigates and reports on abuses happening in all corners of the world. They are independent and work to protect the most at risk and in need.

www.hrw.org

They would like to learn more about the experience of people with disabilities who live or have lived in residential care homes or hospital units. They are also interested in the support that people who live at home receive. They will write a report and share it with government, authorities and NHS to help challenge abuses of human rights.

If you are interested in speaking to them about your experiences then please contact Karolina Kozik kozikk@hrw.org

Growing Our Own Leaders Programme

Nothing About Us Without Us

Free Leadership training for Deaf or Disabled people. You need to be nominated by a London-based organisation or network run by Deaf/Disabled people.

Research study: Identifying as LGBT and having a learning disability

Abi Hughes, a Trainee Clinical Psychologist at the University of Bath is doing some research into how adults with a learning disability have experienced 'coming out' and she is looking for participants. See the poster below for more information about the study and how to take part.

Do you identify as LGBT and have a learning disability?

Are you 18+ years old?

Would you like to take part in a study?

I would like to ask you some questions about:

- Coming out
- What it is like to identify as LGBT

It will take about 1 hour.

To say thank you, you will receive a £20 Amazon voucher.

If you would like to take part, or would like to have a chat about the study, you can email Abi:

Campaign news

Ticket office closures

Public consultations on rail ticket office closures across the country have been happening. Some of these ended Wednesday 26th July but we want to keep up the pressure.

Transport for All has provided a template letter and contact details of transport companies. They also wrote a detailed letter of objection with 50 organisations representing disabled people and allies.

Funding

The Community Organisations Cost of Living Fund

The National Lottery Community Fund has launched The Community Organisations Cost of Living Fund:

www.tnlcommunityfund.org.uk/funding/programmes/community-organisations-cost-of-living-fund

The deadline for applications is 16 October 2023 at 12 noon

This funding is for organisations that support people and communities under severe pressure because of the increased cost of living.

You can apply for between £10,000 and £75,000. If you need £10,000 or less you could try our National Lottery

Policy news

Do you know what a Dynamic Support Register is?

A Dynamic Support Register is a list of people with a learning difficulty/disability and autistic people who need extra support for their mental health.

The NHS say that 'people who are on the Dynamic Support Register are at risk of going into hospital if they do not get the right care and treatment in the community.'

Because there have been many cases of abuse and poor care in some mental health hospitals the NHS has a new policy for people to get the right support, at the right time, and in the right place.

The new policy is about 2 important things.
