

Longitudinal and Life Course Studies (LLCS)

Volume 15: Issue 3 (July 2024)

EDITORIAL

Life is anything but static

Author: Tony Robertson

Pages: 283–285

RESEARCH ARTICLES

Socio-economic differences in remote schoolwork during the COVID-19 pandemic: a trend analysis of the 2020 and 2021 school-closure periods using the UK Understanding Society data

Authors: Nicola Pensiero, Anthony Kelly, and Christian Bokhove

Pages: 286–321

Early school leaving in Spain: a longitudinal analysis by gender

Authors: Martín Martín-González, Sara M. González-Betancor, and Carmen Pérez-Esparrells

Pages: 322–347

Linked lives: intergenerational transmission of labour-market pathways between parent dyads and children

Authors: Anna Brydsten and Sara Kalucza

Pages: 348–370

Can life events predict first-time suicide attempts? A nationwide longitudinal study

Authors: Mogens Nygaard Christoffersen and Lorraine Khan

Pages: 371–393

The trend of the quality of cause-of-death data and its association with socio-economic indicators in Serbia in the period 2005–19

Authors: Marija Andjelković Apostolović, Miodrag Stojanović, Dragan Bogdanović, Branislav Apostolović, Zoran Milošević, and Aleksandra Ignjatović

Pages: 394–406

Revisiting longitudinal qualitative studies in social work: considerations for design and methodological insights

Authors: Ximena de-Toro, Gabriela Rubilar, and Mahia Saracostti

Pages: 407–430