

Longitudinal and Life Course Studies (LLCS)

Volume 14 (2023): Issue 4 (Oct 2023)

EDITORIAL

Families, finances and status

Author: Tony Robertson

Pages: 467–468

RESEARCH ARTICLES

Parental and family determinants of the Flynn effect

Authors: Kristiina Rajaleid and Denny Vågerö

Pages: 469–491

Non-employment, gender norms and the risk of couple separation in eastern and western Germany

Author: Kathrin Stief

Pages: 492–513

An evaluation of self-reported material well-being using latent Markov models with covariates

Author: Ewa Genge

Pages: 514–541

Income inequality in later years: occupational trajectories or initial social characteristics?

Authors: Olga Ganjour, Jacques-Antoine Gauthier, Jean-Marie Le Goff, and Eric D. Widmer

Pages: 542–565

Middle-aged adults' career trajectories and later-life financial security: evidence from Korea

Authors: Seong Ji Jeong, Su Jung Choi, and Joshua Hawley

Pages: 566–591

Comparison of two approaches in multichannel sequence analysis using the Swiss Household Panel

Authors: Kevin Emery and André Berchtold

Pages: 592–623

STUDY PROFILE

Life course development following childhood adversity: methods and findings from the Christchurch Health and Development Study

Authors: Mary Buchanan, Giles Newton-Howes, Geri McLeod, and Joseph Boden

Pages: 624–640