Challenges of Gospel Movements

2000+ level-5 movements exist — yet most take place among the unreached and face critical barriers.

Access Denied

Many areas are closed to traditional missionary work — visas refused, workers expelled.

Broken Model

Sending workers on donor support is increasingly difficult and unsustainable in restricted regions.

Dependency Trap

Indigenous workers dependent on Western donor money create movements that cannot multiply on their own.

No Capital

Banks won't lend to micro-entrepreneurs. Microfinance amounts are too small to start a viable business.

Access Barriers

Geopolitical shifts and health crises have added layers of restriction to already hard-to-reach regions.

Not Self-Sustaining

Most movements we know cannot sustain themselves financially — limiting their ability to multiply.

All Nations Two-Pillar Solution

Two proven programs — working together to plant churches and businesses among the unreached.

CHURCH PLANTING

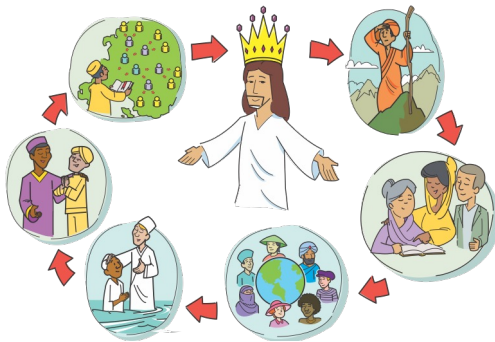

Pioneer Disciple Making (PDM)

Graphic-based DMM curriculum — works for oral learners

Trains church planters to make disciples and start simple churches

Simple churches multiply— generation after generation

No church building required — meets in homes, under trees

BUSINESS PLANTING

Pioneer Business Planting (PBP)

Trains disciple-makers to start simple, non-competitive businesses

Business provides income — funding ministry without donor dependence

Business opens closed doors — creates relationships in unreached communities

FaithFund low-interest loans available after business plan written

A STORY FROM THE FIELD

Gastern Phuzo — Monkey Bay, Malawi

"I see myself going to other nations to testify on how God has changed my life through business planting and church planting. Most importantly, my faith in Jesus Christ will grow strong day by day."

From darkness to 40 employees & a network of churches

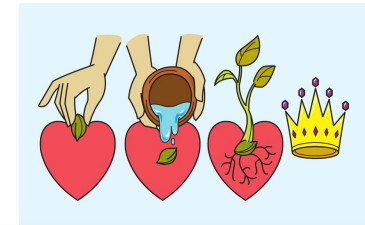

2. A Fishing Rod, Not a Fish

Attended Pioneer Business Planting in 2020. Researched his community. Fishermen from another village needed food and lodging. He opened a simple restaurant — no outside funding. While they ate, he played the audio Bible. Prayed for one man whose wife had left; she returned. Men came to Christ. House churches started.

3. A Movement

From savings he bought two fishing boats. Now earns 120,000 MWK per day. Today 25 people work for him across his restaurant, grocery shop and fishing company. A network of churches has grown — from one plate of food and an audio Bible.

This Investment Keeps Working

1

Self-Sustaining Disciple-Makers

Kingdom businesses provide income for church planters. They no longer need ongoing donor support — their business funds their ministry. The disciple-maker is financially free.

2

Revolving FaithFund Loans

Loans are repaid and re-deployed to new business starters. Your initial investment doesn't disappear — it stays in the community and keeps working, round after round.

3

Training That Multiplies

Every facilitator trains new facilitators. Pioneer Business Planting curriculum is open-source and online— it scales digitally at near-zero marginal cost in 7 languages, reaching oral learners worldwide.

Goal: movements that no longer need Western money — self-sustaining, locally-owned, and multiplying.
